

REPORT (ENGLISH)

All 388 municipalities of Extremadura unite behind the Cáceres 2031 bid

Key highlights

- The Federation of Municipalities and Provinces of Extremadura (FEMPEX) has officially joined the Cáceres 2031 European Capital of Culture bid, symbolising the support of all 388 municipalities across the region.
- More than fifty mayors gathered in Cáceres to publicly demonstrate a united regional commitment to the bid, reinforcing the project's collaborative nature.
- The event highlighted one of the bid's core messages: Cáceres 2031 is a regional project, designed to generate cultural, social and economic benefits for the whole of Extremadura.
- Representatives emphasised the Transculture concept, the guiding principle of the Bid Book, which promotes cooperation between municipalities, shared heritage, cultural innovation and European dialogue.
- As a joint awareness campaign, municipalities were invited to display the Cáceres 2031 flag in prominent public spaces and illuminate their town halls in the bid's colours on 4 September, creating a coordinated regional expression of support.
- FEMPEX's endorsement represents a major institutional milestone ahead of the final evaluation process, demonstrating the broad regional consensus and collective commitment behind the Cáceres 2031 bid.
